

Exhibit Policy

Library exhibit space is used primarily to highlight and promote library services, events, and collections. It is also used to provide community information and give groups and individuals the opportunity to exhibit their arts, crafts, and personal collections. This policy adheres to the American Library Association guidelines, which state "exhibit spaces available to the public should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use." The views of groups and individuals presenting exhibits are not necessarily the views of the library.
